Day 1: Arrive Tromsø

Your private transfer gets you into town from the airport. Tromsø is built on an island — compact, walkable, and genuinely good-looking with its wooden waterfront and mountain backdrop. Get your bearings along Storgata, grab a coffee, and don't go to bed too early. The evening belongs to the fjord: you'll board a sightseeing vessel and head out onto the water in search of the Northern Lights. The boat gives you both open deck space and a warm lounge to retreat to when the Arctic air bites. Two to two-and-a-half hours on the water — and the lights can show up even on a moderately clear night. Overnight in Tromsø.

Included: Private transfer, Tromsø Airport to hotel | Northern Lights Cruise (2–2.5 hrs)

Day 2: Tromsø Island Tour & Reindeer Evening

Morning starts with a four-hour guided tour of Tromsø island and its surroundings. The route crosses to Kvaløya for panoramic views back over the city, stops at Telegrafbukta beach, and takes in the Tromsø University Museum before crossing the bridge to the mainland to see the Arctic Cathedral — one of the more striking pieces of architecture in Northern Norway. The tour includes entrance to both the museum and cathedral and wraps up back in the city centre around 14:00.

Come evening, you're out to the Sámi reindeer camp with Tromsø Arctic Reindeer. Walk among a herd of 300 reindeer, feed them, then take a 15–20-minute sledding ride in the dark. Afterwards, gather inside a candlelit Gamme for a traditional three-course dinner, joiking (Sámi song), and storytelling. If the sky cooperates, the Northern Lights can appear right over the camp. Overnight in Tromsø.

Included:

- Tromsø Island Tour with Tromsø University Museum and Arctic Cathedral (10:00–14:00)
- Night Reindeer Sledding with Camp Dinner and Sámi cultural experience — Tromsø Arctic Reindeer (18:00–22:30)

Day 3: Snowmobile Safari in the Lyngen Alps

A full day out in the Lyngen Alps with Fjord Tours. The bus ride out of Tromsø is part of the experience — the landscape shifts fast once you're clear of town. At the wilderness base you'll be kitted out in a warm suit, boots and mittens before the guide runs through the basics. You travel in pairs on the snowmobiles, swapping driver and passenger halfway, across well-established trails through mountains, forest and fjord scenery. The active safari runs 60–90 minutes with stops for photos and a bit of snow time. Back at camp, a bowl of freshly made fish soup rounds out the day before the ride back.

Overnight in Tromsø.

Included: Snowmobile Safari in the Lyngen Alps with Fjord Tours — winter suit, guide, fish soup (approx. 7 hrs, 08:30–15:30)

Day 4: Polar Whale Safari

A seven-hour boat excursion into the fjords in search of humpback and sperm whales — one of the few places in the world where whale watching is a realistic winter activity. The season runs October to January when the whales follow the herring into the fjords, so timing matters and this package is built around it. The guide covers cetacean behaviour throughout the trip and there's indoor cabin space when the deck gets too cold.

Overnight in Tromsø.

Included: Polar Whale Safari (approx. 7 hrs)

Day 5: Long Reindeer Sledding & Sámi Culture
A longer, more immersive version of the reindeer experience. Out to Tromsø Arctic Reindeer's Tønsvik Camp, about 25 minutes from town, for a 25–30 minute sledding ride through the valley and along the coast — nearly double the duration of the evening tour earlier in the trip. Afterwards, walk among 300 reindeer and feed them before heading into the Gamme for a hot bowl of bidos, the traditional Sámi reindeer stew, with coffee, tea, hot chocolate and cookies. There's also lasso throwing and a joik performance before the bus back. Back in Tromsø by 14:00 for the morning departure, or 17:00 for the afternoon. Overnight in Tromsø.
Included: Long Reindeer Sledding, Reindeer Feeding and Sámi Culture — Tromsø Arctic Reindeer

Day 6: Arctic Fjord Tour
Out of town by minibus with Best Arctic for a five-hour coastal safari covering the mountain valley of Kattfjordeidet and the island of Sommarøy — a stretch of coastline with settlements dating back over 9,000 years. The guide covers the archaeology and the lives of the people who fished and farmed here long before anyone thought to call it tourism. There are stops for photos, short walks, and a sit-down lunch — wraps of reindeer or salmon (or vegetarian), served at an authentic indoor location with the kind of views that justify the drive. Local food tastings included along the way. Overnight in Tromsø.
Included: Arctic Fjord Tour— local guide, food tasting, light lunch, warm suit (approx. 5 hrs, 10:00–15:00)

Day 7: Free Day — Tromsø
Seven days in and no programme today. The Fjellheisen cable car is the obvious move if you haven't done it — ten minutes from the city centre, and the views from 421 metres over the island and the surrounding fjords are hard to beat on a clear day. The Polar Museum down on the waterfront covers the history of Arctic hunting and the expeditions of Roald Amundsen — two hours well spent. For something low-key, the stretch of bars and restaurants along Strandgata is easy walking distance; Bardus Bistro and Fiskekompaniet are both worth knowing about. Overnight in Tromsø.

Day 8: Depart Tromsø
Your private transfer covers the run back to Tromsø Airport.
